The Georgia Association on Young Children

presents the First Annual Conference for Trainers

This full day GAYC Conference is dedicated to providing professional trainers with current research and resources on both early childhood development and adult learning.

A CONFERENCE FOR TRAINERS OF EARLY CARE AND EDUCATION

THE SESSIONS

Track One:

Session One - "Hocus Pocus: Gain Adult Learner Focus", Training with Learning Styles in Mind

Presented by: Bisa Lewis, M. Ed., Ideal Consultants

Based on the principles of adult learning, this session engages ECE trainers in organizing appropriate professional presentations for varied learning styles.

Session Two - "Navigating the Georgia Training Approval Process"

Presented by: Rhonda Canerday, Georgia Training Approval Coordinator, University of Georgia

Receive information and ask questions about the important changes in Georgia Training Approval. This comprehensive session will help trainers to become familiar with the NEW Trainer Renewal Process, the NEW Trainer Matrix, and the NEW Levels of Training.

Session Three - "PowerPoint Magician"

Presented by: Chris Menard, Triality Business Solutions Certified Microsoft Trainer & Master Instructor

No more drab PowerPoints! In this advanced course, students will learn to create & modify templates, build a custom slide master, insert multimedia elements, work with charts, tables, and drawing tools. Students will add action buttons, link presentations, create macros, and broadcast presentations on the Web. AND preview some of the amazing features of the new Adobe® Presenter, the next generation of presentation software! Use it to enhance PowerPoints for rich, interactive multimedia learning experiences! Even create self-paced eLearning courses! Bring your laptop for an exciting hands-on experience!!

GAYC is pleased to offer a thought provoking, two track conference, designed specifically for trainers of early care and education. Dialogs offer professionals the opportunity to explore and discuss presentation styles and effective instruction.

TRAINING FOR YOU

Track Two:

Session One - "Training Activities with a Purpose"

Presented by: Sheila Lewis, Professional Development Director - The Sunshine House

Each trainer needs their own tool box to develop and conduct training sessions with purposeful learning experiences. Join this session and discuss strategies to develop intentional training activities.

Session Two - "Purposeful Me"

Presented by: *Dr. Laurel Gulish Beckham
Center for Child Well-being*

The Task Force for Child Survival and Development

Living with purpose! Exploring the social-emotional health of adults in today's fast paced, high tech world. How to we make meaningful connections, practice self discipline, stay fit, and do the things we love to do?

Session Three - "The Brain: Observer, Thinker, Learner"

Presented by: *Terri Martin-Yates, M.Ed.
Trainings Made for You*

Just how much information can one brain hold?!? The human brain is a mass of 100 billion neurons and support cells, which neuroscientists are actually mapping! Today, we know more than ever about how the brain works to take in information, process it, and retain it. So how can trainers effectively use this information to provide experiences for learners that improve comprehension and information retention? This session will show trainers how to facilitate discussions, create high-impact visual aids, and encourage participation in their own sessions.
